Little Button Batteries (in our watches) often contain silver, zinc, or other toxins and should be recycled.	Recycle with Centra Cam Collection Depot
Rechargeable Batteries and Cell Phones are usually nickel-cadmium (nicad), lithium ion, or nickel-metal-hydride (NiMH). Nicads are good batteries, but the cadmium in them is toxic, so it's clear that we want to recycle all nicad batteries. Nickel-metal-hydride (NiMH) and lithium-ion rechargeable batteries are less toxic, but it is still recommended that they be recycled.
